Re-Opening Policy

Union Avenue Veterinary Hospital will continue to take appropriate measures to protect both clients and staff from COVID-19 in accordance with the Washington State re-opening recommendations for medical facilities. We will continue to adjust accordingly as needed and have been working on a reopening plan that will continue to protect everyone.

Effective July 12th, we will allow 1 client inside the clinic with their pet. Masks will currently be required at all times for staff and clients to protect unvaccinated individuals. Clients will be asked to wait outside until an exam room is available as the lobby will remain closed.

Clients and Pets will be brought directly into the exam rooms, and if any diagnostics or extended treatments are needed, clients will be asked to return to their vehicle until completed. Our full curbside service will remain for Technician appointments as well as will be available to those clients that still request it.

As businesses begin to resume normal operations, these precautions will be needed more than ever to help protect people who are not vaccinated, including children who are not yet eligible. Thank you for your understanding and patience as we continue to adjust in this ever-changing pandemic while continuing to provide much needed care for everyone we can.
